School In Farewell For Two Teachers

"Teaching is never monotonous," says Mrs. Alwida Emling, our third grade teacher who is retiring this year, after 36 years of teaching experience. Retiring teacher, Mrs. Muriel Miller, echoed Mrs. Emling's statement.

"Throughout the years that I have taught, it has always been enjoyable, never monotonous, even though we may use the same, rooms, the same texts, and the same supplies, we never have the same children."

It is this philosophy which, probably, has made Mrs. Emling the master teacher that she is, and a well-loved personality.

When we asked Mrs. Emling to reminisce aloud for us about education in general, and her experiences in particular, we learned that she was born and raised in Gentry County, Missouri and started teaching in Missouri in 1919.

For her first job, she was offered a choice of $45.00 a month for seven months or $50.00 per month for six months. Anxious for experience, she accepted the $45.00 offer, and so began her teaching career in a one-room school house where as both teacher and custodian, she taught 28 pupils in grades one through eight.

Mrs. Emling recalls that, in those days, she would diligently secure extra reading books for her children by regularly visiting the public library and regularly emerging with stacks books.

After several years experience, she accepted a position as reading teacher in a departmental school system in Albany, Missouri. During the five years that she taught in Albany ,one of her pupils was a Ganoway boy, who is now Dr. Ganoway, a member of the San Diego Junior College Faculty.

The death of Mrs. Emling's brother, David Cranor, left their family ranch on Willow and Barona Roads without anyone to take care of it, and so the Emlings moved to Lakeside in 1950 in order to take over the ranch. It was, at this time, that she joined the Lakeside teaching staff.

Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Emling and Mrs. Hester Whiteley, her sister, have been living and working on the Lakeside ranch.

We asked Mrs. Emling to comment about the changes in our educational system and she told us that what she appreciated the most is that there has come about a recognition of the fact that all children do not progress at the same rate, making group work necessary in order to take care of individual needs. She, further, appreciates that there now exists a more friedly and democratic feeling between the teacher and the child.

No one in Lakeside needs to be told that Mrs. Emling has been with our school district for three years. For, in that time, she has gained the respect of her associates and the community, and the love of the children.

Gloria (Major) Davis and Mary Lou Cooper were in charge of arrangements and printed invitations were sent to all class members which read as follows:

At our first class reunion we had few, you'll agree,
And you said, "Let's do it next year!" Well—it's 1953
There's bound to be changes—more married—more kids.
Can't wait another minute to send out these bids.

Sunday, June the 14th, we've decided is best;
Come to your old schol grounds
—You won't recognize the rest.
We'll eat picnic lunch and play games and chatter;
Our joints will ache Monday,
but that doesn't matter.

Good old Class of '39! We're still going strong!
So, say that you'll come and bring all the kids along.
And if you're still single? Good Heavens! Don't tarry!
Bring us your problem and we'll help you to marry.

A bountiful picnic lunch was spread out under the cork oaks in front of the school and letters were read from Wayne Davis in Chicago, the Everett Muellers in Maryland, and the Earl McDougals who are on their way east for a vacation.

Class members present were: Gloria (Major) and George Davis with Danny and Garry Vivian (Ziebarth) and George Windleton with Nita, and David and "Whosit?" Residents Meet To Restore Harmony

Attempting to bring harmonius relationship between citizens of Lakeside, a special meeting was held Monday night at Lindo Park school. Representatives of various organizations and interested citizens talked over the recent allegations concerning our school district staff.

Chairman Tom Barkdull stepped down from the chair and asked Dick Murray to take his place. Murray, with other businessmen have studied the charges and counter-charges and prepared the following recommendation:

The recommendation in part says: The undersigned meet to recreate a harmonious atmosphere. That both factions had acted sincerely in the manner they felt was beneficial to the school system.

In the main, bitterness was caused because rumor was believed as fact. In most cases inadequate facts caused a distortion of the true picture. In brief, the committee feels that there has been no real difference of opinion.

The committee recommended that hereafter all charges against the school district may be made in writing to the Board of Trustees.

The committee askes that the tax election set for June 22 be supported.

CAPITOL AND COUNTY News Letter

by RALPH R. CLOYED
ASSEMBLYMAN

In the closing hours, the State Legislature passed a highway program calling for a 1½ cent a gallon increase in the gasoline tax. After two years the increase will drop back to 1 cent.

The action broke a long, bitter deadlock between the Senate and the Assembly and came within hours of the mandatory adjournment of the Legislature Wednesday .

A full conference committee of three Assemblymen and three Senators worked out the compromise highway legislation, which was the outgrowth of lengthy discussion which continued all day and far into the night.

Final passage came when the Assembly approved the Committee's report 56 to 16 and the Senate 33 to 3. This sent the Assembly measure to the Governors desk for signature.

The tax increase will go into effect July 1st.

The main features of the bill provide for 1½-cent increase on gasoline and 2½-cent increase in diesel fuel, and 33 per cent increase in other highway users tax, with the exception of the 3 per cent gross receipt tax which would remain unchanged. The new tax would be in effect for two years. Beginning with the third year and continuing for eight years, the increase would be reduced to 1 cent per gallon and 22 per cent increase on other highway users tax.

The new taxes in effect for two years would be allocated according to the existing Breed amendment and the present Mayo formula.

Governor Warren praised the Legislature for its highway program. However, he criticized the Legislature for its negative approach to major problems facing California and at the same time made it clear that his comments did not constitute an attack on the Legislaure.

While it is true that much of the Governor's program was defeated, I personally believe it was an honset difference of opinion with the Legislature keeping in mind the desires of the people to curtail spending and to reduce the budget, and to avoid creating new general fund taxes.

A summary of Governor Warren's proposals and what the Legislature did follows:

The Governor's proposal for a new state tax of 2 cents a package on cigarettes, to increase excise taxes on hard liquor from 80 cents to $1.50 a a gallon and those on beer from 2 cents to 4 cents a gallon, and that the collecions be increased on pari-mutuel horse race betting at Santa Anita and Hollywood Park race tracks in order to balance the budget, all went down the drain when the legislative budget committees decided to balance the budget without new revenues or general tax increases, and successfully slashed the budget by $33,000,000. This action was directly opposite of that advocated by the Governor.

Warren had recommended that child care centers be recognized as a permanent part of the school system, but the Legislature continued them with the usual two-year termination.

The Governor's hardest blow was the defeat again to grant state aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

The Administration advocated a special committee to study problems of the old aged, which was rejected.

A proposal that liquor law enforcement be taken away from the State Board of Equalization and transferred to a new department with appointive directors passed the Assembly only to be defeated by a Senate committee.

The Administration plan for the Senate to provide funds to counties to help in the care of senile persons came to naught.

The Legislature provided $14,000,000 to provide hospitals for mental defectives, as advocated by Warren.

The Governor's plea for the State Department of Public Health to enter into contracts to help counties which have no regular health departments was approved by the Legislature

The Educational Television bill was defeated until more definite cost could be determined.

Worren's recommendation that unemployment insurance be broadened to domestic servants and farm laborers was rejected.

F.E.P.C. was defeated. However, Warren had no specific proposal.

My bill creating a new Department of Water was referred back to committee when Warren sent a letter to me staing that he would veto the measure. While he favored the creation of the Water Department he did not like some of the provisions that had been worked out by the Joint Interim Committee on Water Problems and the Irrigation Districts Association, the Farm Bureau and the State Chamber of Commerce.

VIEW - POINT

By
Robert G. Kaplan, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist

We are approaching the time of year when people go on vacations. There are many reasons why we should want to get away from the routine of everyday living. One thing however, the vacation cures nothing!

Geting away for a few days has been proclaimed by many as the cure-all for all illnesses. If children are particularly irritating, getting away for a few days won't make them any calmer. If two people are having marital difficulties and they leave their present surroundings for a few days, when they return the environment is still the same and their troubles will start al ove again. Getting away from a cranky boss for a week will find him stll cranky when you get back .

You can easily see that there is a marked difference between vacationing and escapism. One of the doctors under whom I trained said "Never run away unless you know what you are running from." Many times the reason we give ourselves is only a rationalized reason. The real reason may lie much more within our emotional life. We can never run away from ourself.

Frequent job changing, moving from town to town, needing an excessive amount of entertainment, always wanting to be "on the go" can all be signs of anxiety. These things indicate that we are not at peace with ourselves.

Tiredness, needing an unusual amount of rest and sleep, is another way of escaping. Fatigue is a relative thing and not always directly dependent upon our work output. When we are doing the things we enjoy doing we are much less apt to tire than when we are doing some unpleasant boring task.

Our physical pains and illness es may also be a form of escape. The field of psychosomatic illnesses has become a major interest to all well informed physicians.

There is really no sharp separation between our mind and body. Our emotions help us sometimes and hinder us at others. Lack of knowledge of what our true emotions are can lie at the basis of many of our difficulties.

As human beings we are most apt to accept the simplest explanation regarding the causes of our difficulties. The simplest explanation however is often not the real one.

Psychological sciences have long endeavored to make people aware of their true feelings, strivings, and motivations. Sometimes the truth hurts but in the long run a more successful, happier person is the result.

The goal of all psychological counselling is to make a person play, work and love more effectively — what more could you want?

Question: My sister's doctor told her to quit her job for a month to rest up. She and her husband have been having difficulties but she is not physically ill. Their financial situation is such that she would have fewer worries if some of their bills were paid. What do you think of this kind of advice.

Answer: I dont like it. This is running away from the problem rather than facing it. In the hands of a competent marriage counsellor perhaps this situation could be strightened out without interfering with this couples at tempt to meet their financial obligations.

Dr. Kaplan will write on any question or problem relating to child behavior or family relationships. Write to him in care of The Record.

Speed Causes Traffic Deaths

The California Highway Patrol today blamed the average driver's eagerness to get somewhere faster with causing many accidents.

As an illustration, Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell pointed out that improper passing, involed in about 2500 mishaps last year which left 200 persons dead, is almost always the result of an urge to get there first.

"For some reason" Caldwell said, "impatience over-rides better judgment and a driver attempts to pass on a hill or curve, then smashes head-on into an oncoming vehicle or goes off the road trying to avoid it."

He said impatience also leads many motorists to attempt unsafe and sometimes fatal passes on two-lane highways when there is a four-lane or divided stretch just a few minutes ahead.

Also mentioned as a result of impatience were right-of-way violations, the second major cause of accidents.

Caldwell said this hurry-up attitude was dangerous at any speed, but more likely to be fatal at high speeds.

As an aid in holding down this feeling, Caldwell suggested that if motorists make up their minds to drive a safe, sensible speeds, in keeping with road, weather, and traffic conditions, they would be less likely to be hurt.

The 8.5 billion pounds of milk produced in the US in February was a new high for the month.

One thing can be said about San Diego weather — it varies! But you can have perfect "indoor" weather all 'year round in your home or office when you "weather condition" your rooms with a room air conditioner — the modern way to live better, work better, feel better. Here's what one of these wonderful machines does for you:

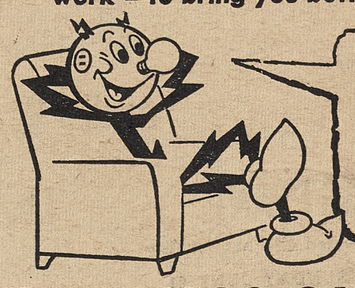
STOPS HEAT
Keeps rooms cool, comfortable and draft-free at the temperature of your choice — no matter what the temperature is outside. (Several models have reverse-cycle operation which can be used in winter as a very effective room heater.)

STOPS NOISE
Yes, they're "kitten-quiet" themselves — and because all windows and doors are closed during their operation — they keep noise or odors out.

STOPS HUMIDITY
Every hour, it delivers volumes of fresh, pure air — with all excess moisture squeezed out of it.

STOPS DIRT
Every bit of air that comes through a weather conditioner is filtered clean — it's dust-free and pollen-free.

Now — see your dealer and let him show you how all the models work — to bring you better, healthier, happier living.



SEE FOR YOURSELF! ALWAYS COOL, CLEAN AND COMFORTABLE WITH YEAR 'ROUND WEATHER CONDITIONING!

Wot Goes On . . .

By Millie

Vacation time is almost here and now with the children soon out of school, there will be busy days ahead for you Moms and Dads. Swimming, hiking and camping trips are what they love, so pack up a great big lunch, maw, and take the kids out occasionally. Most of us don't take enough time to do this for our young 'uns, but let's try to do more of it this year.

Our young son is planning a trip to the Y.M.C.A. camp this year at Cuyamaca, and already he is gathering his things together for this big event in his life.

High School seniors have had a busy week with their last minute plans before graduation, and now it is all over and another 351 young men and women are out to face the world with it's many problems. We want to wish everyone of them Good Luck and Happiness for their future.

Eighth graders in Lakeside will soon see their final days in grammar school, and next fall their freshman year will begin. They will miss their school days in Lakeside with the many fine teachers and school staff which we have here, but time marches on and they must march on in life also.

If you're one of the many who have a patio or back yard, I know you are enjoying them these warm lazy days leafing whenever you have an opportunity. The lawn chairs, swing or what have you are a temptation to all of us when it's warm and work is the last in our minds, and isn't it great to have a picnic or bar-b-que right at home? Fried chicken bar-b-qued steak, delicious potato salad with plenty of good hot coffee, and speaking of coffee, have you gals tried the new instant style? I've always been a fuss box when it comes to coffee, but this instant type sure does fill the bill at our house and is so easy to fix, also saves washing that coffee maker after each meal. Try it sometime. (I hope the coffee distributors take notice of this free advertising). Another reason why I like it is, that you don't waste any down the drain which I used to do so much of. And now I hear they have Instant Tea on the market—what next.

Next Sunday is that special day—Father's Day—and don't forget, if you who are lucky enough to have a dad, remember him in some little way, he'll love you for the good thoughts and good wishes, and if you want to treat him to a special turkey dinner—remember there's one being served over at the Lindo Park Cafetorium by the Chamber of Commerce War Memorial Bldg. Comm., with Blossom Weston at the helm. They are guaranteeing a real home cooked style dinner with all the trimmings. By attending you will help to pay the insurance which is now overdue on the Memorial Building. This group recently took over the responsibility of this building, but they need the help of everyone in this Community. So let's see you there next Sunday between 1 and 7 p.m.

Noticed when driving through Lakeside Farms one day last week that the Walker property which formerly was used for growing the best watermelons is now being taken over by new homes. The kids around this area certainly had some good feeds of melons taken from that patch from what I've been told and I imagine Ed and the rest of the boys had their hands full trying to keep them away. We had our first watermelon this weekend and it was delicious—I was really surprised at the goodness of it. With the weather being warm, it hit the spot.

Be seeing you Sunday, June 21st, at the Turkey Dinner.

Thank You

The undersigned residents of the Lakeside Heights area wish to herewith express their gratitude and appreciation to all organizations and individuals of the Community for their efforts in the recent successful fight to prevent the opening of a Tavern in the predominately residential area on Woodside Avenue near Cajon Road.

Atomic Force

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Involved by Atomic Force?' is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The sermon centers on the question, "Is creative power material or spiritual?"

This declaration from the Psalms (24:1) is the Golden Text: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell herein."

A Bible passage from John's Gospel (6:19-21) shows "Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship." The desciples were afraid. "But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. Then they willingly received him into the ship; and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws. His acts were the demonstration of Science, overcoming the false claims of material sense or law." (P. 273)

FRONTIER HOOFBEATS . . .

By Mariam Conroy

Howdy Pardner—Say have ya noticed all the fly'n round the Frontier of late? Wal—its noth'n to how Time flies! I just can't seem to cover the ground (work) these days.

GO'N PLACES?

Sure thing! to Conroy ranch come next Wednesday at sundown (6:30) plenty of good eats, fun fur young uns n' oldsters, maybe a few surprizes too. See ya there. Let me tell ya what I saw "go'n places." Tuesday morn just as the rising sun was making a valient effort, four Frontiersman Don Conroy, Jim Haptonstall, Harold Annis n' Leo Reed) on their trusty mounts and good ole Dolly (Haptonstall buckskin mare) laden with packs, bring'n up the rear, rode out into the hills, blazing another trail to Los Caballeos. Gone, but not forgotten an what Tales of the Trails, we'll be wait'n to hear. An their return to Lakeside Frontier. How can four be so lucky huh?

Remember the Lemon Grove Rodeo on Saturday and Sunday, this is really a great show—be there.

It was a pleasure to join our trail friends last Sunday at Aztec Riders Horse Show—that too was a great show—with a little extra one "thrown" in by the Color Guard of Lakeside Frontier Rider Harold Annis. Those things do happen to the Best of 'Em an fortunately what gets hurt the most is Ones' Dignity.

JUNIOR RIDERS MET

The Frontier Junior Riders held their regular meet'n Monday at Frontier Ring in Cactus Park—by the way the Junior Riders will meet regularly from now on the first Monday evening each month in the Meet'n House at the Ring. A new member joined this fine group of young horseman, Kenny Reid, who is the proud owner of a Strawbery Roan Mare who answers to name of "Jingles." Welcome to the Frontier Pardner!

Frontier Rider Betty White again has her own horse to ride—2 year old black, Quarter horse (never been ridden as yet) so Betty is go'n to have both work n' fun breaking him. She has named him "Nemos Shadow" Good Luck to a good rider.

All Frontier Junior Riders are invited to Conroy's Ranch to join the fun on Wed. June 24. It's a "Pot Luck Picnic," with swimming, riding an some surprizes.

There will be a Parade Practice at Frontier Ring Friday 19, 10 a.m., sharp for all Juniors who will ride and carry colors at the Lemon Grove Rodeo June 20-21. Please support your president in this effort.

We were proud of all who turned out on Sunday at Aztec, you should have all been there to see your little mascot—Leoma Reed ride into the ring an proudly take her Special Award ribbon for the youngest rider, this being her second in a month. An only three years old. She is the daughter of Lakeside Frontier Riders, Leo and Pearl from El Cajon.

If she can do it—so can you n' you an you!
Now with the heat o' day, out
o' the way,
I'll try to cover a bit more ground
Rid'n on to meet ya, what'a you say
Been nice be'n with you again!

Mrs. Marilyn Kammings, also of the Commercial department, will do secretarial work and type theses for students at the College.

Suffers From Sprain

Being a chaperone is fun, but spraining one's wrist si another. Mrs. Lois Rocchio who together with others accompanied the eighth graders on a recent trip to the beach sprained her wrist when she gripped the roller coaster in which she and daughter Susan were riding too hard causing a severe sprain.

Brownie News

Fourteen Brownies from Troop 209 spent a good deal of time compiling Scrap Books which were completed and turned over to Mrs. Hansen who will see to it that they are delivered to the Children's hospital. A final meeting together with a weiner this season and was held in Lindo Park last Tuesday afternoon. This was a special treat for selling a large quantity of cookies during the drive. Mesdames Doris Harrison, Margaret De La Hunt, Dorothy Lyons, leaders and co-leaders assisted. There will be no more meetings during the summer.

Brownie Troop 598 and their leaders, Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Marco wish to thank the School Board, Superintendant E. M. Walker for the use of the School Cafetorium this past year as our meeting place. Thanks too, to Miss Leahy, Mr. Grassl and Mr. Wilson, Gibson and Flack for their fine help and kindnesses. A "big thank-you" to Mrs. Louis Rluik whose faithful help was most appreciated and to Mms. Samuel Butler, Pettis, Merrill, Petersen, Wolin for transportation and other help. To Mrs. Paul for her ideas and help with art work and to Mrs. Mead for a lovely Christmas party. A special thanks go to Mrs. Eakes and her troop for the American Flag which they gave to us. We are now learning flag etiquette. A special treat which was a weiner roast in Lindo Park was given the Brownies as a reward for selling loads of cookies.

New Light on Prayer

Most people would pray more if they felt they knew how, — and knew how prayer could really be effective. Many today feel that their own lives, and the world at large, sorely need help that human effort has not brought.

They see that somehow the answer to life's perplexing problems must be sought where power and intelligence have their limitless, beneficent source — the realm of God.

Today a remarkable book, the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE and HEALTH
WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES
by Mary Baker Eddy

is reverently revealing a wholly new understanding of prayer, and meeting humanity's need.

This great book may be read, borrowed or bought at

Car Dealers To Close Sundays

San Diego City and County new and used car dealers will be closed very Sunday, begining this week, under a new policy announced today.

Lawrence A. Smith, manager of the Motor Car Dealers' Association of San Diego (new car dealers) and Carl Whittenton, chairman of the used car dealers committee, said the decision to close all day Sunday each week "from now on" was made so that "our sales people may spend more time with their families."

"We feel that the Sunday closing is especially fitting in Southern California where all of us spend so much time out-of-doors, taking part in the many activities possible here yearround," Smith and Whittenton said.

In making the switch to a six-day operating week, the new and used car dealers announced that regular hours will be continued Monday through Saturday for the convenience of the public.

A study made recently shows that there are more than 300 organized watershed associations in the United States, which include about one-sixth the nation's area.

A PRETTY PACKAGE, INDEED—California this year celebrates the 50th anniversary of the tuna canning industry. Putting the finishing touches on the 100-millionth case of tuna packed in the state since 1903, prior to commemorative presentation ceremonies, is pretty Betty Christenson, assisted by C. W. Roberts, Pacific division vice president of American Can Company. More than $90,000,000 is returned to the people of the state each year by the tuna industry, according to Roberts, whose company's can-making plants produce billions of containers annually for Golden State packers of fish and other foods. California cans 90 per cent of all tuna consumed in the United States.

"I Am A Camera" To Open at LaJolla

With the close of the season ticket sales campaign for LaJolla Playhouse last Saturday, it was revealed that more than 50 per cent of the theatre's available seats have been sold to regular subscribers.

"This tops all previous records, John Swope, executive producer, pointed out, when informed of the fact. 'It is a thrilling demonsraion of public support, and I would like to thank all our friends in behalf of Dorothy McGuire, Greg Peck and Mel Ferrer.

"There are still a large number of fine seats left, but not as many as there have been in past seasons, he added. "This means that people who want to see certain plays only through out the season will have to get into the box office as quickly as possible after plays have been announced in order to insure themselves ' of getting good seats."

Tickets for the first two plays were placed on sale Monday (June 15) at the two Playhouse box offices: Southern California Music Co., San Diego; and Morgan-Thornton Department Store, La Jolla.

First play of the season, scheduled for a week's run beginning Tuesday night, June 30th, is to be a very popular comedy, "I Am a Camera" by John Van Druten, which will star Dorothy McGuire and Don Taylor, one of Hollywood's new bright stars.

Another comedy, also a success of the 1951-52 New York season, is set for the second week, July 7-12. It is "Jane", by S. N. Behrman, and will star two of the original New York cast, Edna Best and Howard St. John. Co-starring wih them will be Gale Gordon, better known as "Mr. Conklin" of Eve Arden's "Our Miss Brooks" and Brenda Forbes. Miss Best will direct.

THE SUMMER HOSTESS looking for a smart new thirst-quencher has an out-of-the-ordinary treat in the "Hula." It's a delicious and healthful Ginger Beer and pineapple juice combination that youngsters will rave about and that calorie-conscious grown-ups will welcome for its low sugar content. It's easy to make and budget-wise, too. Just place two or three ice cubes in a tall glass, pour in 1/3 unsweetened pineapple juice and 2/3 chilled Cock 'n Bull Ginger Beer —and that's it. Stir, drink and enjoy. It's tops in year 'round refreshment for the whole family. Adults can add a 1½ oz. jigger of Vodka for a drink with authority.

Y Offers Complete Summer Program For Your Children

How to keep the youngsters busy and happy during the summer months that lie ahead is one of the big problems of every parent. But it's easy to find just the right thing for your child at the YWCA. This summer the Y offers one of the biggest programs for the school-age youngsters that it has ever attempted, a program crammed with activities.

For the girls there are special classes and activities for the six to nine year olds, for older elementary youngsters ten to twelve years, as well as for junior high and high school misses. The younger girls will find new interest in craft classes, modern dancing, swimming and parties; older elementary girls have additional choices of ballroom dancing, sports and advanced swimming. For the junior high young lady, there is a fun-packed program that includes synchronized swimming, tennis, hula (they love it) and club activities.

High schoolers go for a more sophisticated program that features, in addition to all that is offer the younger gals, golf and rhythm swimming. The high school program is a brand new one, and is the result of many requests for activities that appeal to the hard-to-please teen ager. The glamour of golf and tennis (which can be played with the boyfriend) have not been overlooked.

Last year's summer program for boys and girls six years through ten were so overwhemingl popular, that it is to be expanded this year. This is part of YW-wives program which gives mom classes in figure control, sports, crafts swimming and dancing, while the youngsters spend mornings in Balboa Park, having games, sports, nature walks, lunch and fun, and afternoons in the cool waters of the Y pool.

Children who use the facilities of the YMCA during the summer get the jump o ntheir friends in sports and skills. All teachers at the Y, a Community Chest Agency, are college trained specialists in their fields, with understanding of the child an important part of their background.

Reservations for classes can be made at the Y Activity Desk, in the lobby of the YWCA building 10th and C.

Fire Aid To Neighbors May Be Possible Soon

Mutual aid in case of disasterous fires has been discussed by City officials in San Diego county for many months.

A search of the statute books showed that there was no provision for City owned equipment to go to the aid of a neighbor in case of a fire. The trucks were not allowed by law to travel outside City boundaries.

At Monday's council meeting the Councilmen voted to approve a resolution allowing their equipment to go to the aid of their neighbor City and also to cooperate with the County in event they were called on to do so and the Fire Chief deemed it wise to let equipment out of the City.

'The Youth Speaks'

By J. C. La Suer

We went to the Roosevelt Junior High School last Saturday night and saw the contest for "Mr. an Diego." This is the first muscle man exhibition I ever saw but it won't be the last. MoSre people should see these fine examples of health and maybe attempt to look as well as those young men we saw. James Durlun is the current "Mr. San Diego." Gene Smalfelt is "Jr. Mr. San Diego." The highlight of the show was the appearance of Bill Pearl, the 1953 "Mr. America." This highly developed young man is 22 years old. His weight is 210, height 5' waist 31 1-2", thigh 26", hips 38 1-2", calf 17 1-2", upper arm 18-3-4", forearm 13 1-2. He is quite a handsome man, in fact all of the well built men are. There were contests for the best arms, back, chest, abodmen and legs in both the Junior and Senior divisions. We also saw some weight lifting exhibitions by a lady and a man. Another interested tidbit from the show was a act of balancing and tumbling by the Poston family.

Last Thursday the faculty at Grossmont put on a variety show for a small fee.

This is my last year at El Cajon Valley School so the current week is truly a full one for me. Most of my family is busy helping me to get everything done.

Tuesday night the PTA gave a dance for the eighth graders. I never saw the boys so scrubbed-looking, really shining with new hair cuts, ties and all. The girls were just a fairyland of walking dolls, so pretty in their new formals. Tonight (Wed.) we will stage our last performance at the dear old school—graduation exercises, and by the time you read this I will be taking a nap, trying to get rested. So will some tired teachers, eh Miss Green?

The questions from last week need some answers. 1. Moses lived after the flood. 2. Adam was quite young when he became a father, maybe a year old. You see he was created a man. He wasn't born a baby as we all were. I would enjoy hearing some of your opinions on this. 3. We are now enjoying our thirty-third president.

How about some more questions on the presidents? What year was President eG eorge Washington inaugurated? How old was he at that time? Who was the youngest president we ever had? Who was the oldest? How many of their first names were James?

Local Fishermen Win In Los Angeles

If the skippers of San Diego sportfishing boats strain the buttons of their vests this week, there's good and sufficient reason, for deep sea anglers aboard their craft made a clean sweep of the prizes in the most important divisions of the Southern California Fishing Derby for the first week of competition.

The same anglers who registered the top four fish in the San Diego Yellowtail Derby last week made double registrations and walked off with the four top spots in the L. A. derby as well. San Diego anglers also finished one-two in the white sea bass division and took the top award for junior anglers to complete the job.

San Diego anglers also hold repeat some of their first week repea tsome of their first week triumphs. For example, Clarke Johnson, of Long Beach, took a 40 pound 8 ounce yellow at La Jolla and figures to cop the weekly top prize in both events. Other local winners who figure to finish strongly in both are: 35-10, Paul Lawson. L. A.; 34-0, N. B. Ramer, San Diego; 29-12, Julius T. Johnson, Hibbing, Minnesota; 29-11, C. M. Jones, San Diego; and 28-3, Joe Glorioso, L. A.

Top white sea bass for the week was a 57 pounder caught by Robert Walton, of L. A. Earl Evans, of El Cajon, bagged a 47 pounder.

All successful individuals have become such by hard work; by improving moments before they pass into hours, and hours that other people may occupy in the pursuit of pleasure.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

A question in Washington, especially among independent businessmen:

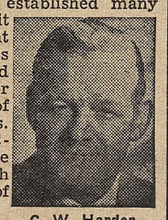
"Just how useful is the Federal Trade Commission?"

* * *

When the Federal Trade Commission was established many years ago, it was the intent of Congress that FTC would set up rules for enforcement of anti trust laws. The Department of Justice is charged with prosecution of violations.



C. W. Harder

* * *

The FTC in anti trust matters is also an investigative body, as the FBI is in crime matters.

* * *

Some observers feel further comparison between FBI and FTC would be libellous to the FBI.

* * *

But on disclosures pending in Washington, comparison between FBI and FTC, bearing in mind both have investigative functions, can be carried even further.

* * *

For example, no one accuses FBI of spending all effort investigating who puts slugs in penny gum machines, while saboteurs go unnoticed.

* * *

Yet the FTC spends millions of dollars on cases such as the following: The Stewart-Allen Company of New York makes smoking pipes. Recently, the majesty of the FTC was brought to bear in a public hearing, resulting in a decision the firm must disclose its pipes are manufactured in the U. S. even though the briar is imported.

* * *

Neither would FBI hire people not believing in the laws.

But FTC neglect to investigate pending major problems raises many doubts about motives.

Retiring Commissioner John Carson reveals a case in point. Several months ago, in the Tire Case, FTC invoked for the first time in history the maximum discount rule under authority given it by Congress. This rule provides a limit to the preferential discounts that big dealers can secure over small dealers.

* * *

Yet, FTC has failed to enforce its own ruling. A Washington court decided the FTC ruling cannot be contested until the FTC enforces it.

* * *

Carson requested full scale FTC investigation of tire distribution.

* * *

But strangely enough, this was blocked by an economist hired by the FTC. This employee, Carson reports, takes the stand FTC does not have time for this job, although every day the FTC finds time to dwell on trivial cases similar to briar pipe matter.

* * *

No one knows what influence, if any, an employee of the Commission has on FTC, but the facts are strange.

* * *

The FTC after making one of the most important rulings ever made for free enterprise fails to enforce it.

* * *

This strange paradox does not stand alone in FTC record.

* * *

Other FTC actions are just as puzzling. For example, after years of research, the FTC prepared a long, several hundred page report on the actions of a few major American oil companies allied with British oil interests, in establishing an alleged world petroleum cartel. This report was then buried by the FTC and required action by U. S. Senators to make it public.

* * *

The FTC has great powers.

* * *

But many Congressmen are becoming curious as to just how, and for whom, is FTC using this Congressional grant of power.
